

Creating a Rain Storm! (For Noah and the Flood)

The leader puts the kids in a circle. Say: “We’re going to create a rain storm. I’m going to walk around the circle and want you to do what I do to make the sounds. You keep doing it until I get back to you with the next sound.”

Start with one kid – your “Point Man or Point Woman” who will start each new sound with you. Tell everyone “Do what I do when I come to you, and keep doing it until I come back around to you. Don’t start the new sound until I come back to you.”

Another adult can stand as part of the circle with the kids to help the kids keep doing what they’re supposed to do. Otherwise they watch the leader and switch sounds before the leader gets to them.

The leader starts and they follow one by one adding these activities as storm gathers, then subtract activities as storm leaves:

The Storm Gathers!

1. Rub your hands together – wind rustling
2. Snap your fingers – raindrops
3. Hit your thighs with your hands – thunder and rain
4. Stomp your feet while you’re hitting your thighs – heavy thunder and heavier rain.

Then the storm quiets

1. Just hit thighs
2. Just snap your fingers
3. Just rub your hands together.
4. Then all stop because the storm is over (and the rainbow appears!)
